

Today's Objective(s): Students will

- Determine which colors of the visible light spectrum are used in photosynthesis by measuring plant growth under lights of different colors.